Lord Randolph Churchill is the third son of the 7th Duke of Marlborough. He is a mediocre student who, along with his brother, George, is initiated into the rites of secretive Freemasonry.

In early 1874, Jennie Jerome and her beauty, the previously mentioned Lord Randolph Churchill, do something very naughty (at least by the social standards of Victorian England) and conceive a child while not yet married. The British Lord quickly marries the American heiress, making her Lady Randolph Churchill. Eight months after the wedding, the —wedding night baby Winston Leonard Spencer Churchill is brought into the world —one month prematurely -- with the proverbial silver spoon in his mouth. 12 As for the elite couple's second child, John (1880–1947), Lady Randolph's sisters would later confirm that the biological father was Evelyn Boscawen, 7th Viscount of Falmouth. Indeed, Winston's notoriously neglectful (4) and notoriously promiscuous (5) mother had numerous Royal lovers during her marriage. In addition to Count Boscawen, loose Jennie hooked up with Austrian Prince Karl Kinsky, Edward the Prince of Wales (future King Edward VII), and Prince Herbert von Bismarck of Germany.

Sir Winston Churchill was allegedly the lovechild of King of Serbia

She shone for me like the evening star. I loved her dearly – but at a distance. Already fatherless by age 20, the distance between Winston and his mother would be made greater by her marriage in 1900 to George Cornwallis-West, a man 21 years her younger -- the same age as Winston!

As one might expect, young Winston becomes a rebellious child. At each of the three independent schools that he will be educated at, he compiles a poor academic 16 record (which has since been improved by court-historians). Winston is a short and stocky boy (adult height of 5'6) who speaks with a stutter and a lisp. Not surprisingly, he is teased and bullied by his schoolmates. Making matters worse, he was often punished for his poor grades.

While in Cuba, Churchill becomes hooked on Havana cigars, which he would smoke (heavily) for the rest of his life.

The over-compensating fake tough guy and intrepid —war correspondent absolutely loves war and justifies every imperialistic British atrocity as a way to bring civilization to barbarous peoples.

"Everything tends towards catastrophe and collapse. I am interested, geared up and happy. Is it not horrible to be built like that? The preparations have a hideous fascination for me" Churchill after the assassination of Archduke Ferdinand Churchill knows very well that Austria-Hungary and especially Germany are being maneuvered into —striking the first blow‖. Austria-Hungary moves against Serbia, 33 which triggers a Russian mobilization (Russia being Serbia's protector); which in turn triggers French and British mobilization (as part of The Triple Entente agreement); which compels a reluctant Germany (Austria's ally) to launch preemptive advances both eastward and westward. Italy later joins the war (on the side of the Allies) and Turkey did as well ((on the side of the Central Powers)

The genocidal blockade from 1915 to 1919 depends upon the scattering of mines and the classification of food for civilians as —contraband. As a direct result of Churchill's hunger blockade, about 750,000 German civilians, mainly the vulnerable women, children and elderly, succumb to hunger and diseases caused by malnutrition.

38 Outgunned Belgian troops defend Antwerp – The bloody and impulsive idiot Churchill doomed British and Belgian soldiers to no-win situation.

53 "The Bolshevik leaders here (Russia), most of whom are Jews and 90 percent of whom are returned exiles, care little for Russia or any other country but are internationalists and they are trying to start a worldwide social revolution." (4) - David R. Francis, U.S. Ambassador to Russia, January 1918

Tsar Nicholas II had hoped to be exiled to the UK while Kerensky was in power, but his British "ally" had refused to take him in. The Bolsheviks (Communists) now hold Nicholas, his wife Alexandra, his four daughters and young son under house arrest. Their Red captors force them to live on rations.

63 The German Freikorps saved Germany from the Soviet-style Communist bloodbath that Jewish Reds Luxemburg and Liebknecht were planning.

The Communists ran the money-printing presses to finance their civil war and welfare schemes. When inflation follows, they impose price controls, causing farmers to lose money by farming. Compounding the shortage is the Red seizure of seeds.

Churchill was willing to guarantee the success of the genocidal Communist Revolution if Lenin and Trotsky (3 & 4) would fight Germany.

78 "I am strongly in favor of using poisoned gas against uncivilized tribes." Churchill

The murderous Black and Tans gang was the monster-brainchild of the blood-thirsty bastard, Winston Churchill.

Churchill was a drunk

While still in his 20s, Winston Churchill acquired a reputation, which he would never lose, as a misogynist who could be notoriously rude to the women he sat next to at dinner parties." Michael Bloch The Daily Mail

And still, Churchill struggles to make ends meet. Expensive drink, highest quality cigars, fancy suits and shoes, extravagant cuisine, compulsive gambling and stock market playing render what should have been a multimillionaire into a hand-to-mouth, perpetually indebted good-for-nothing.

The British Mad Dog wanted to crush Gandhi under an elephant, and crush India's national aspirations in the same way he did Ireland's 10 years earlier. This is part of the reason why colleagues began to shun him.

In March 1938, Churchill had —simply come to the end of the road‖ and would have tumbled into bankruptcy but for a loan from Sir Henry Strakosch, one of several millionaires who admired Churchill and were agreeable to bail him out. Neither man ever spoke about the rescue, which was kept secret.

Bernard Baruch gently informed Churchill that he had lost nothing since he left instructions to his employees to watch Churchill’s transactions as he went about his trading. Every time Churchill sold, Baruch’s employees were to buy the same securities, and every time Churchill bought, Baruch’s employees were to sell.

Europe is at peace and the Jews who have remained in Germany are prospering in the revitalized economy; 75% of them being middle class or higher. Even the legendary Max Warburg, though stripped of his dominance over Germany's Central Bank, chose to stay in Germany until 1938.

The petition stressed the intolerable sufferings of the millions of Jews in "the European holocaust" The establishment of diplomatic relations would mean a renunciation of Lithuanian claims to the region containing its historic capital, Vilnius. Tiny Lithuania, preferring peace to war, accepts bullyboy Smigly's ultimatum and conditions. Had Lithuania stood firm, it's quite possible that Stalin would have used the ensuing war as pretext to take the Baltic States (which he eventually will in 1940) and start the 2nd Polish-Soviet war.

Churchill’s hawks are openly threatening to dump Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain if he refuses to deliver. (11) Having failed to ignite the war in Czechoslovakia, the warmonger’s —Plan B is to draw Stalin into a war alliance with Britain and France; and to then use Poland to start a war with Germany.

142 While the British openly court Stalin, Germany reaches out to Pope Pius XII – quite a contrast! The Vatican offers to mediate an international conference between Germany, Poland and the western powers. Germany and Italy are all in, but Britain refuses the Vatican’s offer.

May 27 – June 4, 1940, After Germany’s stunning advance, the Allies are trapped on the beaches of Dunkirk, France. The entire force can be easily captured, but Hitler issues a halt order. (16) As a show of good faith towards his western tormentors, Hitler believes that the British will be more likely to make peace if they can escape with their dignity intact.

168 May - June 1940, "I have nothing to offer but blood, toil, tears and sweat." Churchill

It is now known the Our Finest Hour Speech in spite of what some in-denial Churchill sycophants still refuse to accept, that the three crucial broadcasts were made not by Churchill, but by an actor hired to impersonate him. Norman Shelley

June 22, 1940, Hitler and Field Marshal Petain make peace to create Vichy France. The armistice is signed in the same railway car in which Germany surrendered after World War I.

When now neutral France refuses the ultimatum, Churchill unleashes Operation Catapult – the naval bombardment of French ships. The Battle of Mers-el-Kébir, results in the deaths of 1,297 French servicemen, the sinking of a battleship and the damaging of five other ships.

The notorious drunk will bomb German civilian areas seven times. But Hitler refuses to do the same. German bombers are under strict orders to limit their attacks to military/industrial targets only...Finally, in September; Hitler is forced to declare that any more British bombings of civilian areas will be met with a similar response. When the German Air Force drops its first bombs on British civilian areas, the world press declares —Germany Bombs Civilians.

As part of a cruel joke, Churchill and FDR chooses the Catholic holy day of 'Ash Wednesday' to literally turn Catholic Dresden to ashes.

“It is untrue that I or anyone else in Germany wanted war in 1939. It was wanted and provoked solely by international statesmen either of Jewish origin or working for Jewish interests." Adolf Hitler April 30th, 1945

July 1945 to the surprise of the world, just two months after Victory in Europe Day, the never-elected Churchill is dumped by the voters of Britain in a massive landslide!

American guards who attempt to help the prisoners face disciplinary action. German civilians try to bring food and blankets to the men but are shot at by guards. Unlike Germany’s wartime internment camps which were open to international inspection, Eisenhower issues an order stating that Red Cross officials are not to be given access to the camps. As disease, exposure, and hunger take their toll, the German losses mount daily. By the end of their cruel incarceration, as 224 many as 1.5 million German prisoners will have died a slow and torturous death.
